The Stitching Post

Dear Friends of Montrose Senior Center:

WE DID IT!! We had a goal of 2,000 handmade items for 2019 and as of 12/18 we donated 2032 handmade items. Combined with the things we have purchased and the items donated to the center we have given out 7,162 items total in 2019. This includes 47 stockings filled with socks, toiletries, snacks, and candy for homeless veterans, 110 stockings filled with toys, books, and candy for the Foster Care Closet, and 100 handmade stockings to the VA hospital in Saginaw. We also had some new purses donated that we filled with toiletries and gave them to the Underground Railroad.

We would like to thank anyone who helped cut, sew, turn, trim, and fill these stockings and other things throughout the year. Without your help this season would not have been possible. Thank you to all those who donated items such as candy, fabric, money, toys, etc. and those who bought from our craft table.

Live Longer—Write Now!

There's long tradition of writers gathering to swap stories and feed on each other's creative energy. Writing offers a wide range of benefits for older adults, from the intellectual to the physical to the spiritual. Published author, Mary Quast, leads a Writing Class at 10am on the Last Tuesday of each month at the center. Participants will learn the basics of creative writing with thought provoking exercises, mental kick-starts, and tips on keeping a journal. The group writes in a wide range of styles and topics. They enjoy sharing work and having artistic discussions to improve creative flow. Class members laugh and talk easily with each other in the comfortable environment of the senior center. Writing has been proven to improve mental dexterity, reduce stress, and in some cases—preserve history. Open to writers, non-writers, and those who simply have a story to tell.
