

What can Montrose Township residents do about landfill odors?

“Gas escaping from the Brent Run Landfill can be intensified by changes in barometric pressure,” said Steve Blayer, department of environmental quality representative. “The gas in the landfill always tries to equalize with the outside atmosphere, therefore, sometimes if there is a change in air pressure, gas may escape. When there are issues, Brent Run officials have been responsive and even proactive in addressing them.”

DID YOU KNOW... Brent Run Landfill has a weather station on site and can determine issues such as barometric pressure, temperature, wind speed and direction.
